Dear Sir/Madam,

I am writing to recommend Anastasia Kozhukhova for her skills and competences in English to Russian translation services. Haymillian is a language services provider with offices in London - UK and Athens - Greece, and operation teams in 20 countries. The key to Haymillian's success lies with our top quality team and paying close attention to the needs of our clients.

I had the pleasure of working directly with Anastasia during a large website translation project (Tourism/Marketing field) of about 600 pages. She agreed to undertake the project and proved to be a very reliable and high-quality translation services provider.

Even though the deadline was tight for such a large project, Anastasia got a clear understanding of our situation and managed to submit the translation ahead of the scheduled deadline. In this way she demonstrated not only her expertise in the subject matter of the project, but also her good management skills.

I can without hesitation recommend Anastasia Kozhukhova as valuable professional for any translating job or any position that requires in-depth knowledge of Russian and English.

Please do not hesitate to contact me should you have any questions or require additional information.

Sincerely,

Angie Antonopoulou
Account Manager
